NEW ORLEANS, Jan. 15 .- It was Ed Corrigan's day at the Fair Grounds. He sent two horses to the post and had both of them re-turned winners. Both were heavily played no doubt the ex-master of Hawthorne nicely on the day. L'Etrenne was the won nicely on the day. L'Etrenne was the first one to carry the Corrigan colors to the front. In the fourth race Hargis started for Corrigan and looked to be a royal good thing with Redfern in the saddle. As good as to 5 was laid against his chances. After the eighth pole had been passed in the run home Redfern brought Hargis up with a rush and won, going away by a length on the end from The Massanger. Who was played end from The Messenger, who was played down from 15 to 1 to 10 to 1. With the return of a fast track there was a big improvement in the card and attendance. The betting was heavy and favorite players had another bad day, as only two choices won.

Rough Rider, the favorite in the last race, balked as the barrier went up and was practically left at the post. The race was won

GOSSIP OF THE RUNNERS. President Engeman Says Brighton Is Satisfled With the Racing Dates.

Contrary to an opinion which has prevailed in some quarters, the Brighton Beach Racing Association is very well satisfied with the allotment of dates for the coming season. The fact that Brighton will have two meetings instead of the long stretch of dates in former years has convinced President Enge-man that his track will be greatly benefited. especially in October, as the Brighton Cup will be run then at a time when long-distance events usually attract the best horses in train-

"I think the Jockey Club stewards have treated us well," President Engeman said when seen yesterday. "I believe our October meeting will be a real good thing for us and, for that matter, a real good thing for the sport, inasmuch as it will help to maintain interest in racing of the highest class until the closing days of the season."

Autos for the Show Arrive. Machines for the automobile show, that opens to-morrow night, began to arrive at Madison Square Garden yesterday. Eight freight cars were required to bring the exhibits from Cleveland alone, for that city boasts of having more automobile makers than any other. boasts of having more automobile makers than any other.

That the exhibition is of national interest is indicated by the number of excursions that will come from other cities. Automobile clubs are arranging to bring their members on in a body; a few motorists will drive over the roads, and the Automobile Club of Springfield, Mass. has chartered a special car to bring its members to New York next Tuesday. As the machines were unloaded at the Garden yesterday, the rival makers watched their unpacking with considerable interest, and in many instances some new improvement was disclosed. The show seems certain to turnish some sensations that the manufacturers have refrained from mentioning.

A telegram from Alexander Winton of Cleveland was received yesterday by Secrecaveland was received yesterday by secre-tary Alfred Reeves of the Empire City track reading as follows: "If track event can be arranged. Winton will accept Fournic's challenge and will name conditions after his arrival in New York on Saturday"

Danny Duane Gets Decision Over Billy Gardiner.

Boston, Jan. 15.-Danny Duane of New York and Billy Gardiner of Boston gave a clever exhibition of boxing in their eight round bout at the Essex A. C. this evening the New York boy getting the decision. It the New York boy getting the decision. It was Duane's first appearance in this city, and although it was expected that he would make Gardiner travel at a fast pace, nothing better than a draw was looked for.
Gardiner forced the fighting in every round, but Duane was so fast on his feet that in every rush he evaded most of his opponent's leads, blocking with his right to the face and sending in a straight left to the body with almost every exchange. The men were both in fine shape and although Gardiner was the aggressor. Duane's cleverness gained him the decision. A large crowd witnessed the bouts.

NINTH REGIMENT GAMES. New Record for Three-Legged Bace

Twenty-second Wins Banner. The annual athletic games, cycle races and reception of the Ninth Regiment were held last night at the armory, 125 West Fourteenth street. The events were governed by the rules of the Military Athletic League and were open only to members of the National Guard. A programme of ten events supplied a good night's sport for the crowd and the fact that a banner was offered to the regiment or company scoring the majority of points added keen zest to each competition. On the basis of 5 for a first, 3 fo a second and 1 for a third, the Twenty-regiment or company scoring the absolvity of points added keen zest to each competition. On the basis of 5 for a first, 3 for a second and 1 for a third, the Twenty-second Regiment won easily with a total of 43-points. The score of the other regiments being: Thirteenth, 11: Seventy-first, 6; Eighth 6: Twenty-third, 5: and Twelfth 4.

The most notable event of the night was the 60-yard three-legged race in which a new record was established by Philip A. Sayles and W. S. Edwards of the Twenty-second Regiment. The old record was 8 seconds, made by C. S. Busse and C. L. Jacquelin in New York city, Dec. 16, 1890, and Sayles and Edwards took a respectable fall out of it by covering the distance in 7 2-5 seconds. That the performance was genuine there can be no doubt, for the pair did not beat the pistol and the race was timed by Charles J. Dugis, Harry S. Lyons and J. W. Hotaling.

Another first-class performance was that of Howard Valentine, Company H., Twenty-third Regiment, in the mile handicap. He started from scratch and getting through his field with rare judgment won by 12 yards in the splendid time of 4 minutes 35 3-5 seconds. The track measured twelve laps to the mile.

The winners of the four trial heats in the 60-yard handicap all wore spiked shoes and when the infraction of the armory rules was discovered the referee ordered the heats to be run over again, and the results were pretty much the same:

Hali-mile Run. Novice—Won by Charles J. Clark, Company A. Twenty-second Regiment, 50 yards, second: Philes. Twenty-second Regiment, 50 yards, second: Hand Time, 2 minutes 33 4-5 seconds.

One Mile Run. Handicap—Won by the gods of pool had provided for him he was fifteen more to the good and the total score was: Stofft. 48; Rogers, 24. Stofft played with accuracy and delicacy, and under the spell of his finesse the balls slipped into the pockets straight through the centre of the entrances. He holed forty-four of the forty-five in the fifth, sixth and seventh frames, Rogers having several misses in succession. It was a runaway race, with Stofft leading. Not a little hard luck befel Rogers in the way of scratches and bad leaves when trying to dislodge the ivory mass. Once he called the wrong ball and had to spot it, as Stofft noticed the error. Rogers put through several cracking good distance shots toward the finish, but on on e of them overdrew and the cue ball came back half the length of the side rail into a corner. Despite such setbacks he gathered home the whole bunch in the thirteenth frame by excellent shooting. Stofft won in the next frame.

Stofft—6, 11, 7, 9, 18, 14, 15, 5, 18, 18, 11, 4, 0, 2. Stofft-6, 11. 7, 9, 15, 14, 15, 5, 18, 18, 11, 4, 0, 2. Total, 125. High run, 21. Rogers-7, 4, 8, 5, 0, 1, 0, 10, 0, 2, 8, 10, 15, 0. Total, 65. High run, 14.

Total, 65. High run, 14.

The second game was between William Wenrick and Thomas Burns, both Manhattanites. Wenrick swept the balls off the table so steadily that he had 62 to Burns's 9 in five frames. His position play was a delight, and whether he was engineering cuts, straight flights or combinations he seldom failed to piace the cue ball advantageously. Burns made the game less of a procession by making twenty-one balls in the sixth and seventh frames. One of his shots pocketed two balls and he sat down, thinking he had scratched. "First time I haven't, he soliloquized. The score after the eighth frame was 85 to 30 in Wenrick's favor.

When Wenrick had the game won with 125 balls Burns had only 38. The high runs were: Wenrick, 38; Burns, 9.

PIGEON SHOOT AT GUTTENBURG. Gun Clubs.

A live-bird shoot for the team championship of the Eastern clubs brought many wing shots to the old Guttenburg racecourse yes-terday, a popping of shotguns and the swirl of feathers giving a brief sporting aspect to the once famous meeting place of the thoroughbreds. It was the first big shoot of the season in New Jersey, but, as the sport is not under the ban there, there are sweep-stake shoots at frequent intervals in which many wing shots from this side of the North River participate.

street to the Grand Union Hotel, where the Western pugilist held a brief levee. Munroe wore a heavy overcoat and a derby dat and a dark business suit. He looks every inch an athlete, and, to the casual observer, he can easily pass for a man who has not wasted his years by indulging in easy work. He is smooth shaven, of fair complexion and has high cheek bones. His eyes, which are a weak blue, dance when he talks and give one the impression that he is earnest and sincere in all that he says.

His countenance is weatherbeaten and honest and he has a pair of jaws which convey grim determination and a desire to succeed. He is intelligent and speaks in a slow, incisive manner, measuring and weighing each word. One conspicuous feature about Munroe's make-up is his hands. They are well shaped and large and when he takes you by the hand his grip is strong and firm. Not-withstanding this he does not look like the ideal heavyweight. That is, he is not so broad or rugged looking as Jeffries or Sharkey. He is built on lines similar to those of George

Gardner and Kid McCoy.

Munroe gave a clear, straightforward account of how he came to meet Jefferies at Butte. He did not belittle the Champion: "While working in the mines at Butte, said Munroe to THE SUN reporter, "a friend came to me one day and said that Jeffries and Fitzsimmons would soon be in town They are offering any one $100 whom they cannot stop in four rounds, said my friend. ready defence of Rice was beginning to tell, but with a determined finish the champion rallied his strength and kept fighting faster every round until finally he wore his opponent down. Corbettentered the ring at 130 pounds, while Rice looked strong at 124.

The contest was fought before the Whittington Park Club, and long before 8 o'clock there was a mad rush for tickets and admission.

In the first round Corbett sized up his man, and made several strong leads, which were well blocked. Until the eighth round had passed Rice seemed to be holding his own, keeping well away from the terriffic swings on the part of Corbett, which often carried him onto the ropes. Corbett then stopped waging his furious battle for a few rounds, got his second wind, and then went to work on Rice's stomach.

Rice showed signs of distress after a few hard punches, and after that it was a matter of foot racing for the champion. When the gong sounded at the end of the seventeenth round Rice went to his corner feeling very sick. He responded after the internission, but his seconds sent the sponge in the ring to keep him from being put out. Abe Attell, Kid Broad, Artie Sims and Battling Nelson challenged the winner.

Kid McCoy Eager for a Fight With Munroe BUFFALO, Jan. 15.—Kid McCoy is hot on the trail of Jack Munroe and he is clamoring for a fight with the Montana miner. the Hoosier boxer sent to Jack Herman, manager of the International Athletic Club of Fort Erie, a telegram, from his training quarters at White Plains which read.

Match me with Jack Murroc. See him before he gets out of Buffalo and do everything possible to bring about a meeting. Tell him I'll box at Fort Erie for anything you offer and at any time that is agreeable to him. Tell Murroc to name terms and date and I will accept. Do this for me Jack. Herman immediately started out to find Munroe. In this he was unsuccessful, Munroe had left for New York early in the day. Herman refused to say whether or not he would bid for a fight between McCoy and Munroe.
